Alexis,

You have asked whether you may attend Enterprise Community Partners 40th Anniversary dinner. Your husband's firm, Crow Holdings, is covering the cost of your ticket. After review, we find that you may attend the dinner.

Under 5 CFR 2635.204(e), employees may accept meals given because of the outside employment activities of their spouse as long as the gift isn't being offered because of the employee's official position. Therefore, you may attend the dinner. Because this offer is based on a personal relationship, you should attend the dinner in your personal capacity. In accordance with the Government-wide Standards of Ethical Conduct regulation at 5 C.F.R. § 2635 Subpart G, please note that you cannot use your official title, authority, or status as a Government employee in connection with any outside activity, nor should you do anything that suggests the United States Government or HUD sponsors, endorses or otherwise supports the event. It should be clear that you are attending this event in your personal capacity.

Lindsey,

My husband is attending an conference/event celebrating Enterprise Community Partners 40th Anniversary and has asked me to join him at the dinner. The cost of the dinner is $300. His firm (Crow Holdings) is covering the cost of the ticket. I wanted to confirm that I could attend as his guest and see what information you may need to make that determination or what I needed to do to be able to attend.
